ANNA UNIVERSITY APPROVED FACULTY DEVELOPMENT TRAINING PROGRAMME ON

"EE6501-POWER SYSTEM ANALYSIS"

04-06-2018 to 10-06-2018

REPORT ON FACULTY DEVELOPMENT TRAINING PROGRAMME

At the outset, we wish to express our sincere thanks to Anna University Chennai for approving the Faculty Development Training Programme, conducted by the department of Electrical and Electronics engineering of this college from 04.06-2018 to 10-06-2018 on the topic "EE6501-POWER SYSTEM ANALYSIS". In the recent times of electric power shortage and consequent power-cuts has assumed great practical importance for this topic in the power sector.

In this programme 25 Faculty members from various Engineering colleges were participated. A dozen well qualified and experienced faculty members drawn from leading educational institutions and our own institution delivered lectures on various aspects like operational constraints, control objectives and their implementation, under normal and abnormal states of a power system. They also shared their rich and varied experiences in the field of power system engineering with the participants.

The tutorial sessions were conducted for better understanding of the topics like per unit calculation, y bus, z bus calculation and its uses in power flow and fault analysis.

To summarize, this FDTP was a very useful one in updating the theoretical and practical knowledge of the teachers in this field and will definitely have its impact in their classroom teaching when they go back to their respective institutions. To put it in a nutshell, this FDTP was very useful and has paid rich dividends.

National Workshop on RECENT ADVANCES IN STRUCTURAL AND ENVIRONMENTAL ENGINEERING On September, 8thFriday 2017 In Association with ICI Students Chapter

Report of the Workshop:

Intent of the workshop:

- To delivered about recent skills needed in the field of structural and Environmental Engineering.
- To suggest the suitable research methodologies raised in the above said fields.

Theme:

Civil, Structural and Environmental engineers design, construct and operate a wide range of environmental infrastructure, vital to the needs of a modern economy. All the infrastructure around us, including roads, bridges, hospitals, universities, airports water, wastewater and energy facilities is the product of civil, structural and environmental engineering. Civil, Structural and Environmental engineering is the application of science to planning, design, and construction for the benefit of society while minimizing environmental impact. Engineers are curious about how the world works. They enjoy solving problems and are creative and inventive people. This present workshop is addressed the recent advances in structural and environmental engineering. This workshop is organized in Association with ICI Students Chapter, Salem.

Topics Covered:

This national workshop RASEE- 2K17 provides the theoretical information and practical hands-on training on recent advances in Structural and Environmental Engineering with an emphasis on the emerging trends in the major field specializations such as Structural Engineering, Building materials, Water and Wastewater treatment, Application of Remote sensing & GIS in Environmental Engineering. The underlying principles and inherent advantages and limitations of the various techniques will be presented. In addition, the operation of various instruments and testing methods will be demonstrated through hands-on exercises. In fact, we received wide response and 67 participants from various engineering colleges were attended this event.

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Electronics and Communication was started in the year 2001. The department has won the best e-Governance project from Tamilnadu government. The department has well equipped laboratories and Anna University has recognized the department as research centre. The department has well qualified faculty with adequate infrastructure facility for research and development.

SCOPE OF THE PROGRAM

loT is the network of physical objects or things embedded with electronics, software sensors and network connectivity which enables theses objects to collect and exchange data. The loT allows objects to be controlled remotely across existing network infrastructure, creating opportunities for more direct integration between the physical world and computer based systems and resulting in improved efficiency, accuracy and economic benefit. When IoT is augmented with sensors and actuators, the technology becomes an instance of the more general class of cyber physical systems which also encompasses technologies such as smart grids, smart homes intelligent transportation and smart cities.

WORKSHOP OBJECTIVES

This program aims at providing an opportunity for participants to enrich their knowledge and skill in developing various solutions for solving engineering problems in the society using IoT. This program serves as a platform for Research Scholars, Faculty, Engineers and Students to interact on cutting edge technologies in IoT.
